Speakers: For the club's November, December 2015 meetings & any of our monthly 2016 meetings' highlight/speaker/presenters are open for suggestion. We would like to welcome a guest for a tying and or a guiding presentation. Maybe a modestly priced fly tying presenter? Ecological organizations, local conservation-education, or mutual interest groups perhaps? Let the board members know what you think would be a good choice.

Holiday Party: For our December meeting, food and refreshments will be hand to celebrate the holidays.

Club Dinner: The annual club dinner was touched on again to keep it fresh in members mind. We hope to get a preliminary report from our dinner committee to consider some potential dining locations. Members are welcome to offer the board suggestions for location or any other ideas to make this event enjoyable and successful. Gifts and donations are needed for prizes. A donation letter is on the club's website.

Committees: The club would REALLY like to have some members designated to specific committees. If you have an interest in any of the mentioned committees please let the board know.

Hands on demonstration of fly pattern tying among members is the task at hand for these meeting. Come on out to learn and share...

Fishing Reports: Short Bass are showing up and keepers too. Oceanside beaches have been producing so has Raritan Bay/ Shrewsbury River/Navesink. Bait is still abundant after Joaquin. Oceanside beaches, rivers, and the bays are holding spearing, peanut bunker, adult bunker, & anchovies. False Albacore have been spotted in several locations along Sandy Hook & Monmouth County ocean side beaches and a few have been caught also. All fish can get picky with so much natural bait available, but flies can offer an uncanny similarity and get a fish's attention. Recon at low tide can offer insight to where fish may hold come rising tide. Time spent on reconnaissance & fishing this time of year can be beneficial & productive. Tight Lines to all...

The club is always looking for ideas... Perhaps a fly fishing guide from somewhere or some kind of destination presentation. It doesn't have to be formal or limited to fly fishing. All members are encouraged to ponder, seek, and contribute. The hope is to keep the club vibrant, the meetings well attended, and members always interested...
